FOREWORD

Did you get a copy of Sweet Briar "Topics" edited a year ago last April and distributed in June, 1913? If you did you know how splendidly the New York Chapter of the then Association of Former Students, under the direction of Margaret Dressler, came to the front, and gathered together into pamphlet form thirty-two pages of most interesting news about Sweet Briar, the place and college, and all the girls who've ever been there. Just how stupendous a job this must have been we'll realize only when we stop to think that it was every bit pioneer work. We owe the New York girls the heartiest sort of a vote of thanks for thus blazing the trail.

On the fifth page of the above mentioned pamphlet you'll read that the New York chapter planned to edit the first two "Topics" and hoped that thereafter every organized chapter of the Former Students' Association would take its two-year turn. This pioneer chapter, however, was not able to follow up their first edition of "Topics" by the second—one obstacle in the way, and by no means the least, was the fact that a plan for the consolidation of the two Associations, Former Students and Alumnae, was in process of making, and such a change in organization would necessarily involve more or less change in the plans and line of work of both the two former Associations. First of all, this change demanded reorganization of chapters, and the burden of editing a "Topics" added to the already heavy load of reorganization seems entirely too much for the shoulders of one chapter to bear. For a few years, then, don't you think the new Association as a whole better undertake the responsibility of getting out "Topics"? That is what has been done this year. The comparatively short notice, however, on which it has all had to be put through, added to the fact that a good deal of other information must be circulated among the Association members at the same time with "Topics," may result in this year's edition falling below the standard set us last year by the New York chapter. Be patient, though, please, and lend a helping hand! "How," you say? Why this way—nor will you then have to wait for the next edition of "Topics" to find out whether So-and-So is married, or Beard in Amherst still keeps horses to ride. Tell or have your chapter tell every little thing about yourself and all the Sweet Briarites you know to Miss Louise Weisiger, Sweet Briar, Virginia.

Then subscribe to the Sweet Briar Magazine, or have your chapter subscribe and circulate the subscribed copy or copies among its members. See! the "helping hand" is simple and will not impose much either on your time or your pocket book. If every member would only respond to this appeal, think how "live" we could keep the "wire"! The first number of the Magazine comes out November first. If you have anything right now you can put in, do sit down immediately and write to Miss Louise Weisiger. She's in charge of the Alumnae and Former Students' Personal Department of the Magazine.

Stop! Look! Listen!

You who were present at the meeting of the student body called last June, 1914, to discuss our new Association! If by chance in June you thought you were going back to college in September, but decided later in the summer not to return, be sure, if you're at all in doubt, to find out from Katharine Wilson, Sweet Briar College, Sweet Briar, Virginia, just what you signed on your pledge blank. You'll be able in this way to more intellegently fill out the blanks enclosed in the letter we're sending out.

Don't forget that the Song Books are still on sale, and, in spite of the fact that the war has raised the price of other commodities, this particular one still remains the same—$0.50 per copy. If you want one send Katharine Wilson your half dollar along with your membership and pledge blank. Don't you think they'd make nice Christmas gifts for some of your Sweet Briar friends?

Eight girls got degrees last June: Abbie Munroe, Elizabeth Green, Ellen Hayes, Ruth Maurice, Laura Portmann, Rebekah Patton, Alice Swain, and Henrietta Washburn. Look out for a detailed account of Commencement (and Finals were splendid this year) in the first issue of the Magazine this fall!

You're anxious no doubt to know what the different student organizations have been doing this past year. Just read the following letters.

Student Government Association.

Our first aim this year has been to awaken a whole-hearted co-operation on the part of the members of the Association, to have a "pulling-together," with a deserving confidence in each other, to make an Association ever worthy of Sweet Briar and one which every former student will be proud to call her own.

Among the most important changes made in our Constitution and By-Laws were those in connection with the Honor Council and Chapel attendance.

The Honor Council, which heretofore was concerned only with Academic work, will now uphold our standard of honor in all phases of college life.

In consultation with the Faculty the number of Chapel cuts was changed from fifteen to twelve a semester, only one of which can be taken during examination week.

The principal penalty imposed by the Executive Committee for violations is that of "campusing" for a certain number of weeks according to the offence with the addition of loss of privileges, and withdrawal from social activities and office holding in more serious cases.

Certain new committees were formed to lighten the work of the Executive Committee and to bring a greater number of students in close relationship with the work of the Executive Committee. These committees deal especially with order and quiet in the Refectory, Chapel, etc. One committee is held responsible for the appearance of the campus.

During examination week the system of self-reporting was tried and proved very successful.

Carpet runners were bought for the Chapel aisles and are a great aid in keeping quiet as the students come in and leave the services.

Each girl contributed a dollar toward the further furnishing of the parlor in the new dormitory.

A system of fire drills was worked out, and these drills were begun in earnest.

Some other changes have come about in the Association and there are other things to which we are aspiring, all of which you will see and hear about when you come to Sweet Briar.

Let each one of us on going back show by observing again its rules and regulations that our interest in the Association has not weakened. Such loyal support of former members will prove an invaluable strength to the Association.

REBEKAH E. PATTON,
President of Student Government Association.

Y. W. C. A.

The advance made by the Young Women's Christian Association during the past year has been marked, not only as to numbers and achievements, but in prestige as an organization, which is now recognized as one of the most important factors in the life of the college. For the first time, the membership embraced the whole student body and Faculty with not more than two or three exceptions.

The Advisory Committee has, through regular meetings, held occasionally in conjunction with the Cabinet, taken a more active part in the Association work than ever before. The present plan is to organize two mission study classes, the first semester under Faculty members, which shall serve as normal classes for student leaders for the second semester. As many as fifty students enrolled for "The Challenge of the City" this year, with Miss Sparrow as leader.

A home for those in charge of the Indian Mission is being financed by the Association, and is now in process of building.

The support of the Sweet Briar Cot in China has been maintained, and Fifty Dollars contributed to St. Luke's Hospital in Tokio.

The old commissary building is still too small for enough Sunday School classes to satisfy the would-be teachers.

The first Sweet Briar Handbook was published by the Association last summer for the benefit of the new girls. The second issue was sent to the new girls this year in time for them to know a good many things about the college before they came.

Sweet Briar had a delegation of thirteen at the Blue Ridge Conference this June, four of whom went at their own expense, the others being elected from their respective classes.

The spirit and achievement of the Association during the past year only go to show that it has a universal appeal and is an increasingly powerful factor in the life of the community. It has proved itself worthy of the support, not only of the undergraduates, but of each loyal alumna. Since it is the only organization with an alumnae membership, let us grasp the opportunity for a living bond of usefulness with the life of our Alma Mater.

HENRIETTA WASHBURN,
President of the Young Woman's Christian Association, 1913-14.

Athletics

Athletics at college is growing every year along the line of organization. Basketball is perhaps the best developed sport. There are the collegiate, special, and inter-class teams. Scheduled games are played during the fall out of doors, and during the winter in the "gym." Dormitory, state, and scrub teams are also formed, causing much excitement.

The Lake is, perhaps, the most popular place in the fall and spring. The boathouse has been more than doubled in size, holding ten boats now, and eight or ten bath houses have been built in the boathouse. The pen is still frequented by novices, though there are fewer in the spring than in the fall. This summer a new platform four feet high was added to the first raft and the spring board on that makes a good high dive.

A second annual Lake Day was held October 10th of this year. Speed and endurance swimming races were special features of the day. Class boat races were a popular innovation.

The tennis courts are in great demand. The three old courts have been improved by lengthening the back stops. There is still room for improvement, however, on the new courts.

The hockey field is in use as a La Cross field in late fall and winter, and as a baseball diamond in the spring.

Field Day has been made official by adhering to the requirements of the American Athletic Association.

A plan to set aside a certain amount of the dues each year of the Athletic Association has been discussed. The idea is to begin a fund for a Recreation Hall under the supervision of Athletics.

ALICE G. SWAIN,
President Athletic Association,
1913-14.

Sweet Briar Dramatics

Protected from competition with the siren of the hour, the moving picture shows, and drawing the crowds that only a "one night stand" can attract, Sweet Briar Dramatics still flourish in Chapel and Dell. The play was decidedly the thing last year. Besides the five Dramatic Association productions, each college class appeared in turn behind the footlights, finding a class play to be the most lucrative form of pay entertainment. The French department discerning the general trend of the public mind made haste to secure a date, making the tenth play to be presented during the theatrical season 1913-14.

The absence of Miss Connie M. Guion, so active a dramatic coach during former years, has been keenly felt and but for the efficient organization established with her help, the Association could never hope to have succeeded as it has. Twenty-five new members were taken into the Merry Jesters and The Ripplers societies last fall, and they have been enthusiastic workers throughout the year.

The dream of many semesters of saving and planning has at last been realized and the Dell is wired with electricity. The lights worked beautifully for the final play, thus inspiring even the frogs with so much respect that not a croak disturbed the charming presentation of Barrie's "Little Minister." This year the opening play, Rostand's "Romancers" was held there.

The enthusiasm felt by the old girls working once more under the guidance of Miss Guion, who was back for the opening of college, thrilled the audience to such an extent that about twice as many appeared when trials were held for members in the "Merry Jesters" and "Ripplers."

The plays given during last year were as follows:

The Revenge of Shari Hot Su—Presented October 25th by the old members of "Paint and Patches."

A Russian Honeymoon—Presented November 25th by the Senior Class.

The Runaways—Presented November 29th by the new Ripplers.

The Amazons—Presented December 13th by the new Merry Jesters.

Le monde ou l'on S'ennuie—Presented March 1st by the French department.

Purple and Fine Linen—Presented March 6th by the Freshman Class.

Our Mutual Friend—Presented April 4th by the Merry Jesters and Ripplers.

Mrs. Briggs of the Poultry Yard—Presented April 13th by the Junior Class.

Captain Jinks—Presented April 25th by the Sophomore Class.

Little Minister—Presented June 1st by Merry Jesters and Ripplers.

RACHEL FORBUSH,
Pres. Dramatic Asso., 1913-14.

Begin Now

And plan to go back to Sweet Briar next June! We have no idea how much merely the getting together a goodly number of us will do for our Association, to say nothing of the vast amount of fun and frolic we ourselves will get out of a grand big reunion. Don't think just because you have no friends among the 1914-15 students that you won't have a good time! Do your part by going back and being truly enthusiastic over this "Back Home" movement, and you'll find more than a few of those you used to meet daily on the arcades and walk arm-in-arm with to and from the Academic Building and Sweet Briar House, at the "bus" to greet you.

EUGENIA M. BUFFINGTON,
President of Alumnae and Former Students Association.

LOCAL CHAPTERS

By far the most important part of the Association is its organization into local chapters for it is chiefly through the small groups of girls living near each other that a vital interest in Sweet Briar can be kept up. It is our desire and plan to gather every girl who has ever gone to Sweet Briar into one chapter or another. In some cases these chapters will have to be composed of all the girls in a state, but in many, we hope in most, they will be formed of the Sweet Briar girls living in one city or small group of cities. Already, under the former organization, several chapters have been formed, among them being New York, Chicago, Ohio, Western, and Norfolk. The New York chapter is the oldest, having been in existence for five years and numbering thirty members. These girls are living in either New York or in one of the many smaller towns within an hour or two of the city. The Ohio Chapter, four years old, with a membership of thirty-four, is composed of all the Sweet Briar girls in the state, and holds its meetings in Cleveland or other convenient centers. These two types of city and state chapters are the models by which new groups will be formed.

Organization

The executive board plans to write to one girl in each community, asking her to start a chapter and sending her a list of those girls who would belong, geographically speaking, to her group. The girl will call the first meeting and, acting as temporary chairman, see that officers are elected and meetings planned. The plan of organization will be left wholly with the individual chapter so that the local needs may be met. When it is possible, a quarterly meeting should be held. In the large cities meetings may conveniently be held in some hotel, while in smaller places each girl might entertain the chapter in her own home. The meetings may be of a purely business character, but it seems far more in keeping with the Sweet Briar spirit to combine the business with a social meeting.

Object

Of course the chief object of the local chapter is to keep our associations with our college and with one another ever warm, but an excellent way to show that the object is being attained is to do some actual work for Sweet Briar. There are innumerable little ways in which we can help, but just now the most important way is by raising the Endowment Fund. Every college endowment fund has been raised mainly this way—by local chapters. The Association has three channels through which to obtain funds—the Association as a whole, the local chapter, and the individual girl. The whole Association will realize its largest amount from the dues paid by all of its members, but since there are only about seven hundred former students, this source of revenue is but small, especially when from it must be deducted current expenses, such as printing and mailing “Topics”, etc. The individual girl will be asked to pledge any amount she can afford and many will respond, but the largest share of our Endowment Fund should and will come from the groups of girls who are organized for the purpose of raising money. Here again the vital importance of the local chapter is evident and here the individual girl is counted upon to give her very best to the work, remembering that neither the chapter nor the Association can thrive without her. It is impossible to dictate how money shall be raised for conditions vary too widely to adopt any uniform plan. The following suggestions, however, have been given us by other colleges which have found them successful in raising their endowment funds. If they do not suit your chapter, invent a new plan and write us about it that we may pass it on to the other chapters.

Ways and Means

Sell, on commission, Christmas and Easter cards and calendars.

Give a play, Kermis, or tableaux, asking some of your friends to help. Both the girls and men will enjoy taking part, if the chapter has worked up enthusiasm before asking them.

Give a tea, bazaar, or subscription card party.

Hold a series of subscription dances, if possible in your own homes, or have a progressive dance, going from house to house. If your chapter is composed of several small towns close together, each town might take its turn holding the dances.

Buy out a theater night and re-sell the tickets fifty cents to a dollar higher, or engage a good lecturer or musician and give a private entertainment.

Advertise yourselves as cake and candy makers, ready to fill orders any time. Also hold dessert sales on Saturday mornings in some centrally located vacant store. You have no idea how quickly the busy house-keeper will buy your pies, little cakes, preserves, etc.

Take orders for maid's aprons, embroidery or any other sewing for which you can find a market. Perhaps you can sell through the Women's Exchange of your city.

Start a tea-room, or sell lunches at some school. For a small commission almost any girl would be glad to act as your agent in her school.

If none of these suggestions suit your chapter, remembering that "a penny saved is a penny gained," ask each girl to set aside a certain portion of her allowance every month for the chapter's fund.

COLLEGE NEWS

The first Sweet Briar students will be glad to know that we still have Dr. Harley, Miss Gay Patten, and Miss Young of the original Sweet Briar Faculty.

Harriet Evans, whom almost all Sweet Briar girls remember, is President of Student Government this year. The exceeding quiet of Carson and Gray Halls gives evidence of her success already. The other officers are: Margaret Grant, Vice-President; Louise Weisiger, Secretary; and Virginia Sandmeyer, Treasurer.

Miss Nan Powell is teaching this year at the State Normal School at Farmville, Virginia. In her place we have Miss Frances Hadley of Mount Holyoke as instructor in English.

Other new instructors are: Miss Katharine Wilson, who was a student here in 1910-11, and who has just completed her course at Vassar, in the English department; Miss Nannie Timberlake in the Latin department; and Miss Marion Ballou in the biology department.

Margaret Eaglesfield has lately taken a course in agriculture at Perdu University and now has charge of the orchards of Mr. Robert Tait at his estate near Sweet Birar.

Mr. Manson has just given Sweet Briar a bungalow on the property belonging to the college in the Blue Ridge Mountains about twenty miles from Sweet Briar. This bungalow will be used for camping parties. Mr. Manson has announced that he prefers to take his trips when experienced cooks from the Domestic Science department will be along.

The French department this year is entirely changed. Mr. Worthington has resigned to study further at Johns Hopkins University. Mr. Albert McMaster from Dartmouth has taken his place, with Mademoiselle Blanche Prenez of Paris, France, and Mademoiselle Emma Liardet as new instructors in the department.

Mr. Martindale is traveling about Sweet Briar this year in a roadster while his horses are taking cups at the Amherst Fair.

You should come back to see how the Faculty children are growing up. Polly Cary Dew swims to the dam, and has been honorary member of a class that has graduated—1914. Billy is rapidly growing up to take his place as the only masculine member of a woman's college. But we have others too—Dorothy and Isabel Jones, and Anne and Thomas Lewis.

Of course nothing about Sweet Briar is complete without mention of the Walkers. We still ascend in droves on Monday afternoons for a taste of their charming hospitality and a cup of English tea, and to hear delightful tales of England, Manitoba, and Florida. Their Thanksgiving bonfire has become an annual Sweet Briar celebration.

And now, Alumnae and Former Students, this paragraph will make your mouth water. Of course it is about the "Tea House." Most of you know of the improvement that the building has undergone, but perhaps only a few of you know that the Tea House is now large enough to supply refreshments not only for individual parties, but also for "state" affairs and dignified receptions, and banquets given by the various college organizations.

The Tea House is open every afternoon except Sunday and Monday, and such good things one finds to eat there! The girls feel a debt of gratitude to Miss Wambersie, the controlling spirit of this important place.

The proceeds from the Tea House now maintain a scholarship at the college. Isn't this splendid?

NAMES AND ADDRESSES OF ALL SWEET BRIAR STUDENTS, INCLUD- ING 1914-15.

The Executive Committee would appreciate it very much if you would send to Katharine Wilson, Sweet Briar, any corrections in the addresses in this pamphlet, and when you get married please remember to send us an announcement, so that we may have your latest name and address.
